

Diary Entry Extract

Dear Diary,

Today was an awful day! First, I had to stay at home with my grumpy, wicked and evil Grandma while my Mum went shopping. I was bored to tears!

After Mum went, Grandma became an evil, old troll and I had never felt so terrified. Why does she even have to live with us? Why can't she be kidnapped by pirates or live in one of the pigsties on the farm?

Then, she screeched at me loudly to make her a cup of tea. I miserably made her a tea and handed it to her. While she was drinking her tea, I quietly took a long, hard look at her. She was such a tiny person, her legs looked like sticks of celery. Next, she told me the silliest thing! She told me to eat mountains of cabbage crawling with bugs. Yuk!

Now my fear has changed to anger. I hate that witchy woman! I have to do something about it. Something amazingly shocking! But how do I do it? Hmmm I'll let you know tomorrow diary. Let's hope I can quickly think of something truly amazing!

Night night for now.

Love George
